From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Mon, 1/11/2016 9:31:51 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Apple music service subscriberstop 10m, Cameron aim...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

FINANCIAL TIMES

Monday January 11 2016

UK HOMEPAGE

Apple music service subscribers top 10m

Tech group hits milestone within 6 months as it gains ground on rival Spotify

Cameron aims for summer EU in-out vote

Prime minister insists he will remain until end of parliament even if UK votes to leave

Mitsotakis to lead Greek opposition party

Campaign pledge not to back reform of collapsing state pension system

VIDEO

Valuing Saudi Aramco

Saudi Aramco, Saudi Arabia's state oil entity, is considering a stock market flotation that could create the world's most valuable listed company. Lex's Alan Livsey and Robert Armstrong discuss how much it might be worth and where a listing would take place.

US HOMEPAGE

Hong Kong rattled by missing booksellers

Activists fear disappearances are a threat to the city's autonomy

China markets end morning lower

People's Bank of China keeps renminbi fix stable but fails to inspire equity markets

Merkel cancels Davos as pressure mounts

Organised crime warning as chancellor prepares to tighten law on convicted immigrants

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Cairo meeting raises pressure on Iran

Arab ministers condemn attack on Saudi embassy in Tehran

Tesla update lets cars park themselves

Elon Musk says in a couple of years owners could summon their vehicles from across the country

FCA in spotlight as Tabernula case begins

Financial Conduct Authority's reputation under scrutiny as eight-year probe goes to court

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Renminbi-based interbank lending rate hits record high

Big five US banks hurt by China and oil

Run-up to Fed's rate rise fails to boost key trading units

Emerging markets face 'more pressure'

Analysts warn of further challenges to growth stemming from China's market turmoil

WORLD NEWS

Poland summons German ambassador

Comments criticised broadly Eurosceptic administration

Catalonia elects Puigdemont as leader

New president expected to accelerate region's push for independence

Mexican drug lord faces extradition to US

Boss of the Sinaloa cartel is credited with supplying half the illegal drugs shipped into the US

Capital controls hit Nigeria's jet set

Wealthy travellers find debit cards rejected abroad

Early-voting states are economic outliers

Iowa and New Hampshire have problems other US states would love to have

COMPANIES NEWS

VW hopes catalytic converter can fix cars

German carmaker has devised tool that will make vehicles compliant with US clean air rules

Investors plan to cut hedge fund exposure

Concern over industry's poor performance during past year and high fees

Cheniere cargo turns US into gas exporter

Momentous step for US energy industry that is marred by poor LNG pricing amid oil rout

Small UK energy groups covered in red ink

Survey of Aim-listed oil companies highlights impact of crude price plunge

Unions in talks over steel plant's future

Port Talbot works under threat with reports of 'hundreds' of job losses

MARKETS

Asia bourses continue dismal New Year

Concerns remain over China outlook amid heightened volatility in mainland

Brexit fears hit sterling corporate bonds

Excluding financials, the market has failed to open this year as investments in UK assets put on hold

COMMENT

America's election year terror risk

What if the vote were upended by a Paris-style attack?

Heed the fears of the financial markets

They understood the gravity of the 2008 crisis well before the Federal Reserve

The downside of free capital flows

New controls are not yet the subject of polite conversation among policymakers

‘Terreur dans l’Hexagone’, Gilles Kepel

Politicking led to French Islamism. writes Anne-Sylvaine Chassany

Why Aramco stake would still be a gamble

Size of world’s biggest oil group comes with more than a few limitations and risks

MANAGEMENT

Jacques Gounon, Eurotunnel CEO

The head of the rail line linking the UK and France on terror, migrants and potential Brexit

Pranks are no laughing matter to the young

My generation couldn’t resist a spoof email but millennials can

Delicate balancing act of trusting staff

Managers must avoid temptation and take steps to ensure they do not overload star performers

Feedback: Sarah O’Connor on robot workers

Readers respond to argument for leaving robotic jobs to real automatons

Manage email | Forward this email
Feedback | Manage portfolio
Subscribe to the FT
Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2016
You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.
This email was sent by a company owned by Financial Times Group Limited (FT Group), registered office at Number One Southwark Bridge,

London SE1 9HL.
Registered in England and Wales with company number 879531.